

Man Burned Critically As Fumes Explode

3 In Shipley Family, Neighbor Suffer Burns In Blaze At Residence

Orvin G. Shipley, 46, was burned critically and three other persons suffered burns of 4.31 p.m. Thursday, when gasoline fumes were ignited at his home, 1317 Washington avenue, Madison.

His wife, Lelena, 38, and his daughter, Della, five, also were hospitalized for treatment of severe burns and a neighbor, Winifred Milton, 64, of 1315 Washington, was burned on both hands in tearing burning clothing off Shipley. Put out by firemen, the fire resulted from the explosion caught a second time and left the home virtually a total loss.

A railroad employee, Shipley was washing soiled work gloves in gasoline preparatory to placing them with other clothes in an automatic washer in his kitchen. Gasoline placed in a large white plastic bowl mixed with fumes with the air in the closed building and was touched off by the pilot light in a nearby cooking stove, Madison firemen determined.

Breaks Window

The explosion blew out the living room window, set fire to the kitchen and burned three members of the family. Alarmed by the sound, Milton went to the front door of his home and heard Shipley yelling in pain as he ran to the front lawn.

Milton pulled the flaming clothing off him, but over half of his body already had suffered second and third-degree burns. Mrs. Shipley was burned about the neck, face and arms and the girl suffered burns to the right arm and face. Both were in serious condition and were taken with Shipley in an ambulance to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis. All three were reported today to be improving.

Heavy Damage At Home

Both Granite City and Madison firemen were summoned after Milton had called for an ambulance, and the Madison department controlled the blaze. However, it broke out about an hour later and gutted the story and one-half structure.

Damage was estimated at $1000 to the building and $750 to the contents.

The Shipley's two sons also were at home at the time but escaped injury. They stayed temporarily with neighbors until being taken by out-of-town relatives of the family late last week.

GC Council May Decide Tonight On Engineer

Citizen Master Sewer Group Offers To Study Vesci's New Proposals

A contract for engineering services for the city's master sewer and drainage program is expected to be the major topic of tonight's Granite City council session. The Aldermen, who voted 12-to-3 last month to follow a recommendation by the 25-member Citizens' Committee, are to decide whether to proceed with the citizens' engineering study or to accept the proposal of tonight's Granite City council session.

Mayer Davis, who is firmly behind the citizen group, told the Press-Record over the weekend that he thought the study by the citizens might discourage any future citizen participation in governmental affairs. He pointed out valuable information many times contributed by individuals with special talents, is available to the city through citizen groups. "We shouldn't toss all this out the window," he said.

The mayor said that while the council is elected to assume responsibility, citizens also have a responsibility to offer their services when needed for the betterment of the community.

"With citizen participation, we have an informed community that can help us solve the greater understanding of the problems of municipal government."

Citizen Group To Attend

The mayor has called upon W. Hoelscher, chairman of the Citizens' Committee, to be present at tonight's session to further explain the recommendation for the sewer study.

Hoelscher said that the full committee will be present at tonight's session. He said that the citizens will continue to offer their assistance to the council to study the four engineering proposals obtained in a matter of a few weeks by Vesci.

In a preliminary study of Vesci's four proposals made a few hours prior to last Monday's council session, some differences were discovered. "I want to offer the services of the Citizens' Committee to study these three proposals," Hoelscher said.

The Citizens' Committee, after a meeting during which repeated interviews were carried out with five engineering firms, submitted a report to the council for hiring the Shepard firm last December, and the council voted to accept the recommendation.

Hope To Get Full Grant
During negotiations between the council and the Shepard firm, the Citizens' Committee and the Shepard firm, a contract proposal was submitted for the survey and design of the sewer system. The proposal was for $274,498, the full amount of the federal grant. The contract was negotiated in that manner, it was explained, in order for the city to have the full amount available should an expansion of the survey be required. Edward J. Shepard, representative of the Shepard engineering firm, told the council committee that the job probably could be done for $80,000 to $90,000.

Warm Weekend Lures Many Out-of-Doors

Enjoying their first weekend of good weather since the arrival of winter and the heavy siege of snow in February and March, Quad-Cityans moved to the out-of-doors in large numbers.

As the mercury rose to 78 degrees yesterday, local residents were observed playing tennis and informal baseball games and riding about in open-top autos. A few even went fishing, but reported little success because rivers and streams are still cold.

Most of the mounds of snow here had melted by last night, but a few stubborn remnants of white remain in yards and fields.

Mathis-Hendricks Nuptials At First Methodist Church

The wedding of Miss Betty Hendricks, a daughter of Mr. Mildred Hendricks, 2228 State streets, and Glen Mathis, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mathis of Dover, Tenn., took place Saturday evening at the First Methodist Church in Madison.

The 7:30 ceremony was performed by Rev. H. E. Dickey in a setting of white flowers, greenery and candlelight. Further illumination was furnished by lighted candles in the window recesses and white ribbon bows marked the family pews.

Preceding the service, the soloist, Mrs. Eva Clement, sang "O Promise Me." "Because" and the Lord's prayer, accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Anna May Nichols, who played the traditional wedding march and recessional.

Four Attend Youth Legislature Training

Four of the 27 YMCA Youth and Government delegates who will attend the Youth Legislature in Springfield on April 22 and 23 attended a training session in Chicago Saturday. Meeting with other delegates from Northern Illinois, the four received instructions in the various phases for their jobs at the Youth Legislature.

Attending were Youth Legislature Lt. Governor Sheila Graham, Clerk of the House of Representatives Mary Ellen King, Sergeant-at-Arms Warren Nash and Press Reporter Emily Doniff. They were accompanied to the conference by Mrs. Mary Margaret Graham, and a delegate from Edwardsville, Sue Adams.

The local YMCA delegation to the legislature proper is being sponsored by H. D. Karandjeff. Other delegates who will attend the Youth Legislature, where Illinois teenagers supervise the operation of the state government for two days, are: Anita Boyer, Carol Ortolan, Jeanette Skubish, Julie Polinski, Linda Tindall, Sandy Coleman, Carol Kestel, Ida Guttar, Janice Gardner, Gloria Zitz, Sharon Mabrey, Ruth Ann Schroeder, Ronald Randall, Raymond Taylor, Judy Rollins, Elaine Dineff, Christine Karandjeff, Diana Ferrero and Carroll Seiler.

Assessors To Begin Annual Farm Census

On April 1 Illinois assessors and their deputies are scheduled to begin the 23rd annual farm census in their respective townships. The census is taken by the assessors in rural townships—over 1600 of them, when they visit each farm to assess personal property. The census will cover land use and livestock numbers.

Under the law farmers are required to answer questions asked by the assessors. The information given is confidential and may not be used for tax purposes. Farm operators can save time for themselves and their assessors if they will have their crop and livestock figures in mind when the latter call on them.

The farm statistics give a picture of the agriculture in each township and are of utmost importance to the citizens of the community. Local data enable farmers to buy and sell more effectively. Buyers of farm commodities want to locate their facilities in areas where production is concentrated and they can buy most efficiently.

State Capital NEWS

Gov. William G. Stratton was commended for his contribution to Illinois development by key leaders of industrial development and related fields meeting in Springfield recently.

In a two-day conference at the Leland Hotel these representatives passed a resolution commending the governor for his recognition of Illinois' industrial potential and his efforts toward helping the state realize this potential.

The resolution follows: "We, representatives of the Governor's Conference, meeting in Springfield, Illinois, March 16 and 17, to stimulate interest in Illinois' industrial growth, wish formally to commend the Governor of Illinois, Wm. G. Stratton, for the following reason:

First, Gov. Stratton saw Illinois' great natural advantages and present important position among the industrial states and recognized that Illinois potentiality can be the nation's leading industrial state.

Secondly, Gov. Stratton recognized that in the existing competition for industry among the states, no state can secure new industry or maintain its natural advantages without meeting this outside competition in a forthright and vigorous way.

Third, Gov. Stratton early in his first administration with the co-operation of the Illinois State Legislature established a Division of Industrial Planning & Development to meet this challenge and to help Illinois develop its full industrial potential.

Fourth, throughout both Gov. Stratton's administrations, he consistently has taken a lively and helpful interest in the Division's work in every constructive way possible has furthered the Division's program.

In view of this, we representatives to this Conference from all parts of Illinois express our appreciation for his contribution to Illinois' industrial development."

Plans for a "camp on wheels" were outlined last week in a report by Joseph F. Munday, superintendent of forestry camps of the Illinois Youth Commission. The report was presented to Senator E. G. Criesberry, chairman of Correctional Service Advisory Board to the commission.

The mobilized unit will operate as a branch of Lowden State Boys' camp near Oregon, Munday said, but it will travel throughout the state to handle work projects assigned by the Illinois Department of Conservation. Surplus trucks and buses are being converted into living quarters for 30 boys and their supervisors.

The work is being done by the prison industries and vocational departments at the Illinois State Penitentiary at Joliet.

The mobile unit will be the ninth camp to be opened since the Youth Commission began its forestry program for rehabilitation of offenders six years ago. Nearly 250 boys, all of them committed by the family and circuit courts of the state, are currently assigned to the camps.

A good supply of red, white and jack pine seedlings are available from state nurseries for wildlife cover restoration and reforestation, according to the state Department of Commerce. Hardwood seedlings, black locust, cottonwood and soft maple are available, as is black walnut seed.

Although orders for seedling trees will be accepted by the Forestry Division until April 15, landowners are urged to order promptly. An order of 500 trees is the minimum that will be accepted.

Trees may be purchased for the Youth Commission's shelter-belt planting, Christmas tree planting or reforestation and must not be used for ornamental purposes or home windbreaks.

Order blanks and price lists may be obtained from county Soil Conservation District offices or from county farm advisers.

Rutledge Tavern at Lincoln's New Salem has been renovated and given a "lived-in look," it has been announced by Glen D. Palmer, director of the state Department of Conservation. The Tavern, which was the first erected in the reconstructed village, is once again open to the public.

Interior walls have been freshly whitewashed, furniture refurbished and all items of everyday living have the appearance of being used.

Additional Honors Go To Cagers Williams, Price, Walker, Hand

Additional honors were heaped on four Quad-City high school athletes late last week as area coaches and sports writers wrapped up 1959-60 basketball season statistics and carefully filed them away until next fall.

Granite City's all-state guard (as selected by nearly every newspaper that conducted a poll of its writers or coaches) Rich Williams, was named together with his running mate, Bob Price, to positions on an Illinois metropolitan all-district squad.

Joining the pair of seniors was Madison's big Ed Walker, who earlier this month had been named to the Southern Illinois all-state squad; East St. Louis' phenomenal rebounder and leading scorer Don Brooks; and Collinsville's Bogie Rodman, like Walker just a junior.

Williams, Price, Rodman and Brooks were joined by Belleville's "Mr. Outside," Mel Fatten, on Northwestern conference squads while Walker garnered similar honors in the Midwest loop.

Clarence Hand of Venice, leading scorer in the MJC conference, was a natural choice for all-conference in a loop made up of smaller area schools. Conference champion Triad placed both Gary Wisemeyer and Nelson Loy on the first team, and this trio was joined by Al Hess of St. Paul and Jim Augustine of Livingston.

Brooks and Williams, by virtue of their selection on one of the first three all-state teams, will be eligible to attend the annual all-state basketball banquet in Champaign on April 2.

A north-south exhibition all-star basketball game, with the state's finest prep players participating, has been set for July 16 in Champaign, but has hit a snag in that the IHSA may not sanction the venture if it involves players who will be in school during the 1960-61 season.

Brief Outdoor Workout For MHS Diamond Crew Thurs.

Madison baseball coach Francis "Pat" Dant can draw one consolation from the unfavorable weather conditions which have curtailed "spring" diamond workouts so far this year—freezing temperatures and muddy bases are affecting the opponents on Madison's 15-game schedule the same way.

"We tried to get some outdoor work," mostly outfield drills on correct throwing and retrieving balls hit over the outfielders' head—Thursday afternoon," Dant said, "but the wind was too chilly for any extended work. The wind had one good side effect. It was drying out the Trojans' practice and playing fields—until below-freezing temperatures came along again over the weekend."

Only one week remains before Madison opens its season at St. Louis against a conference opponent. Dant is a bit worried about the Big Green crew coming up with its second straight conference championship, due to the lack of most of his front-line pitching.

7 Area Policemen To Attend Conference

Seven policemen from the Quad-Cities will attend a police community relations institute Tuesday in East St. Louis, Ill., at the Broadview Hotel. The institute is sponsored by the University of Illinois.

Capt. Frank DeWitt of Venice, Sgt. Emmett Pavia of Madison, Chief Raymond Willard, Assistant Chief Floyd Jeff, and three others from Granite City are scheduled to attend. Four speakers will address the assembled policemen.

Illinois Professor Charles Bowman will speak on "The Citizen as Law"; Saul Sorin, Missouri, Illinois regional director of the anti-defamation league, will discuss "With Justice For All"; and St. Louis Chief Curtis Brown will discuss "Police Responsibilities."

Infield, Pitching Strong Finding Outfielders And Hitters May Be Top GCNS Baseball Problem

Joe Fedora's main problem, in his first year as Granite City high school baseball coach, is to find outfield strength and hitting to replace four powerful sluggers who graduated.

Fedora has nine returning lettermen back from last year's 24-4 team and also a teaming letterman from Madison. These lettermen should form a solid pitching staff and infield, but it is the outfield and hitting strength that are more doubtful.

"Centerfield is our main problem now," Fedora said. "We haven't even decided on top candidates for the position. Also, our hitting is an unknown quantity."

Based on last year's performance, we don't have many really powerful hitters back, but you never can tell what might develop after the boys get out and start practicing."

Bow Line Boat Club To Sponsor Races Here On Aug. 21

A 20-mile round-trip race for catamarans from St. Louis to Chester, Ill., and back will be the highlight of an all-day race program to be staged by the Bow Line Boat Club Aug. 21, Commodore Ray Simmons announced today.

Simmons said it is hoped to attract a large number of catamaran entries for the race by offering top prize money of the day to the winner of the event. The twin-hulled boats, powered by twin outboards, have until recently been used strictly as pleasure craft, but proved highly successful in competition on a closed course during the Florida championship races last week.

Miss Naomi Marie Herman And Harold L. Hicks Wed

Miss Naomi Marie Herman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hicks, 2212 Sheridan avenue, and Harold L. Hicks, son of Mrs. Daisy Cassidy, 2212 Sheridan avenue, were married Thursday evening at Trinity Methodist Church, 2542 East 25th street.

The Rev. James T. Bryant officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony before the altar decorated with white flowers and greenery and lighted with burning candles in candelabra. The double ring ceremony was used.

The soloist, Mrs. William Herman, an aunt of the bride, sang "Because" and the Lord's Prayer, accompanied at the organ by H. L. Metcalf.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Elmer Ivie, the bride wore a floor-length gown of tulle and lace with tulle over tulle. It was designed with a fitted bodice featuring a scalloped neckline trimmed with sequins and pearls and long tapering sleeves. The bouffant skirt was decorated with alternating tiers of lace and tulle and a fingertip veil was secured to the bride's hair with a cascade of pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladiolus flowers.

Miss Caroline Sifton, the bride's only attendant, was attired in a powder blue street-length dress of chiffon over tulle, with a scoop neckline and a white embroidered cummerbund. She wore a blue headpiece with blue veiling and matching mitts and carried white and blue pom-poms. A little flower girl, Cindy Herman, cousin of the bride, wore white organdie frock trimmed with lace and caught with rosebuds. A band of flowers was in her hair and she carried a basket of rose petals.

Roger Hoover, an uncle of the bridegroom, served as groomsmen, and ushers were Kenneth Hornum, the bride's brother, and Alfred Buchanan.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Herman selected a sheath dress of vapor green silk embroidery over tulle, while the bridegroom's mother wore a taupe silk sheath dress. Both complemented their costumes with white accessories and white orchid corsages.

A wedding reception was held at the church directly after the ceremony. The newlyweds will honeymoon in Las Vegas, Nev., where they will go to Apple Valley, Calif., to reside. The bridegroom, a graduate of the Poplar Bluff, Mo., high school, is employed at the Radio Research department at George Air Force Base, Victorville, Calif. He spent five years in service with the U. S. Navy.

The former Miss Herman was graduated from the Granite City high school and has been employed by the Mercantile Mort-

MRS. KENNETH T. WALTON, a recent bride, before her marriage at Niedringhaus Memorial Methodist Church she was Margaret Jeanette Ramsey, a daughter of Mrs. Ida Ramsey, 2001 Kirkpatrick Homes.

1960 Easter Seal Campaign Lagging Throughout County

The 1960 Easter Seal campaign, seeking $25,000 to help 609 handicapped persons in Madison county, is in its second week with few returns from the 55,000 appeal letters sent March 17. It was learned from the headquarters of the Madison County Association for the Crippled, Inc.

Mrs. Howard Kaseberg, Quad-City area campaign chairman, is stressing the need for funds and has been introducing to this area the "Easter Seal Child," Joseph Butler, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Butler of Edwardsville.

The boy, a victim of cerebral palsy, has been here to meet the major and other Quad-Cityans. He regularly attends the Tiny Tim Workshop for preschool handicapped children at the Easter Seal treatment center in Edwardsville. The center is supported by the Madison County Association for the Crippled, Inc.

"In this little guy," Mrs. Kaseberg said, "we have a willing worker and an undaunted spirit. His mother will testify as to his speech and language development in the past six months at the school."

In addition to his physical therapy treatments, the boy attends the Alton Easter Seal Treatment center once a week for occupational therapy. Six months ago he began riding on a tricycle in the Tiny Tim workshop with special built-in pedals and foot straps but now rides without any special appliance to assist him.

"Joe wears a brace on his leg," Mrs. Kaseberg said. "He can't walk or stand alone as yet, but he will. At home he exercises under the watchful eyes of his parents by walking in the parallel bars, which are stationed directly in front of the television set."

His favorite pastimes, besides watching western on television, are feeding his cat and sliding, head first, down a slide in the family basement.

"The Easter Seal campaign," Mrs. Kaseberg said, "is for the purpose of providing services needed by the handicapped children and adults of the county."

"Every dollar given means more than you would imagine. We not only urge people to give but also to use the Easter Seal when they arrive because much time and effort on the part of many people was spent in getting them out."

GCHS Students Tour Alton State Hospital

Thirty-five Granite City high school students, supervised by instructor Grover Norwood, toured the facilities of the Alton State Hospital last week. They visited several areas on the grounds and heard various speakers tell about the treatment program.

Dr. Abraham Simon, hospital superintendent, emphasized the needs of the hospital and pointed out the importance of supporting community health and the Illinois Public Welfare building bond issue, which goes before the voters in November.

EASTER SEAL CHILD for the 1960 campaign now underway is Joseph Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Butler of Edwardsville. Joe, a victim of Cerebral Palsy, is being introduced in the Quad-Cities area by Mrs. Howard Kaseberg, chairman of this year's campaign in the local area.

Mudge To Defend County Against Daily Tax Suit

The political pot began to boil faster late last week as two Madison county state's attorney candidates clashed on an unexpected battleground—tax rates. Anthony W. Daly of Alton filed suit compelling the collection of over one-fifth of all the county government taxes, contending that rates are excessive and large taxpayers have been paying less than their share through successful tax objections.

State's Attorney Dick H. Mudge Jr. of Edwardsville, who being called by Daly in the Democratic primary, replied Friday that "I will do my utmost to prevent Mr. Daly from bankrolling his campaign." Describing Daly's suit and press releases as an "effort to gain some political advantage," Mudge said, "He knows that the state's attorney does not fix the tax rates and is duty bound to oppose such suits."

Opposing allegedly excessive rates of $400,000 and $250,000 in Alton taxes, over one-fourth of the city's levy, Daly said he is acting "in behalf of all other owners of real and personal property." He contended that cities and counties were allowed to share in the sales tax to obtain additional funds, and that property taxes should not be increased.

"Excessive rates of taxes imposed have been cured in behalf of large taxpayers when they would file formal objections to the levy, but the other taxpayers have never received any benefit from these decisions," Daly said.

"Mudge said, 'He wants to divert attention from the fact that under administration this county is . . . (free from) the influence of gamblers, racketeers and their political allies. I wonder how considerably Mr. Daly as state's attorney would represent the treasurer of Madison county in a suit filed against the treasurer by Mr. Daly, private citizen.'"

No hearing date has been set on the injunction proceedings.

Reputation Of Available Federal Survey Funds Could Jeopardize Future Growth

The issue raised by three aldermen in regard to the engineering survey for Granite City's master drainage program could jeopardize for more than the city's reputation for fair play, if the city's suggestions were to prevail, the entire future of Granite City could be jeopardized. The drainage program is essential to the community's growth, and no unjustified action should be taken to weaken the program itself or public confidence in it.

The council special sewer committee is attempting to reopen the evaluation of engineering firms conducted for a year by the council-created citizens' sewer committee. Cost is being used as the wedge, but comparable figures are not being compared.

The only conclusion based on last week's discussion and subsequent developments is that there is no bonafide cost issue.

There is only one issue, aside from the need to avoid signing a contract that would deprive the city of the $120,000 grant. All of it may not be needed, but this cannot be said with certainty because the monthly review as the survey progresses may uncover additional needed studies. The federal government believes the entire $120,000 is reasonable, and all the engineering firms could do the work at roughly the same cost. The talk of "savings" is a phantom.

The only issue is which company will do the work best. After its year-long study, the 25-member citizens' committee decided unanimously to recommend Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, a local firm that is familiar with local drainage conditions. Now some on the council would use confusion to circumvent the citizens' report and the council's own action.

The Sheppard firm deserves a hearing, and any decision should be made with the assistance of the citizens, who are more familiar with the proposal than anyone else due to the extensive hearings. The public has a vital stake in the drainage program and will closely watch the developments.

The danger to be guarded against is establishing a fixed figure below $120,000. Whether with the recommended firm or any of the three firms contacted separately by the aldermanic committee, such a contract could cripple the city's ability to obtain sufficient funds to get the job done.

There is no assurance that the comprehensive survey needed by Granite City will be finished at the conclusion of the phases currently envisioned. If it should prove that some of the $120,000 is not needed, it can be returned. But to repudiate part of the available federal funds at this point would seem a poor and unnecessary risk, jeopardizing the future growth of Granite City.

April Fools' Day An Ancient Custom Throughout World

April is an unfortunate month, although winter-weary Quad-Citizens probably will greet it this year as one of the loveliest months of all. The unfortunate aspect about April is that it invariably begins one of the least renowned of the year's special days, April Fools' Day.

The origin of April Fools' Day, or All Fools' Day, is uncertain, but it seems to be a holdover from world-wide festivities marking the vernal equinox. For some unexplained reason, it became customary to attempt to catch friends with foolish pranks or practical jokes each April 4.

Anyone fooled by such pranks in France is known as a "poisson d'Avril," meaning an April fish. This may be partly based on the fact that fish are caught easily in April. In Scotland, these befuddled are called "April gowks," the latter word referring to cuckoo birds.

Even in India, at the feast of Holi, the chief amusement is fooling people by sending them on erroneous errands. The practice of perpetrating pranks once became so widespread in the United States that telephones would be disconnected on April 1 in self-defense.

Opening an important month with such an important day still seems unfortunate, but luckily the observance has changed in form and has been curtailed to a great extent. As is the case with Halloween, the nation's good judgment is making itself felt and such holidays are becoming more "safe and sane" each year.

Parents who misunderstand their children have children who misunderstand their parents.

Many Steps Being Taken To Make

New University Here A Reality

On the surface, efforts to establish a state university in this area might appear to be marking time until the decision by voters in November on a state-wide university construction bond issue. Major emphasis must be on the referendum, but many other steps also are being taken to speed the day when the school can be opened to students.

Creation of residence centers in Madison and St. Clair counties was important because it dramatically illustrates the great need for a university in the Illinois Metropolitan Area. Even without ideal facilities, the centers have attracted thousands of students.

Announcements by Southern Illinois University's Southwestern Illinois Campus show that labor organizations, businesses, other groups and individuals are continuing to contribute to the fund for purchase of land to turn over to the university. Only last week, single gifts of $879 and $325 were received on consecutive days.

The busy activity at the site between the Quad-Cities and Edwardsville also reflects a determination to start classes as soon as possible. Offices are being operated on the new campus by SIU Vice-President Harold W. See and his staff, and offices are being prepared for President Delyte W. Morris and other officials by July.

In many ways, active steps are being taken to establish the university. The need here is the greatest of anywhere in the state, and the people of Illinois are moving to meet that need.

West 25th Street Junior High Ultra-Modern Building

Granite City's newest and most modern junior high school, able at the present time, "we expect at Central Junior High Klein said that while no exact enrollment figures are available, they are going to be crowded" when Walter Klein, currently principal, to September. Tentatively scheduled at one time for a mid-term opening, it was delayed by a nationwide steel strike and has been nearly completed and will be located on West 25th street, near the intersection of West 25th and West 26th streets.

Construction of the 23-room building was started in November 1955. Heat has been turned on in the building, and Head Custodian George Bass has assumed his duties. Unfinished business includes installation of special junior high classroom equipment.

Principal at the new school, where all but one classroom is located on the ground level, will be the school opens.

Of the 23 rooms in the building, eight are conventional classrooms for seventh, eighth and ninth graders. The remainder are special rooms, which include science, art, music, drafting, home economics, arts and crafts and vocal and instrumental classrooms.

Excellent gymnasium facilities rival those of any junior or senior high school in the area. A unique feature in the gym is the absence of any windows. The area will be illuminated by electric lights and plastic domes built into the ceiling which allows the entry of natural light, Klein said he knows of no similar arrangement anywhere.

A huge folding partition can be used to divide the gym area into separate gym rooms for physical education classes. The partition is hidden away in a recess at one side of the gym when the entire basketball floor is needed.

Bleachers for the gym are among the various pieces of equipment which have not yet arrived, but will be installed before September.

Other items awaited for installation are gas and electric stoves for the modern home economics room, where eight complete "kitchens" are set up, complete with refrigerators, sinks, and cabinets. Adjacent to the home economics room is a sewing room, which has yet to be equipped with sewing machines.

Awalt Hardware Delivery "Most of our classroom hardware has not been delivered yet," Klein said. "We need desks, chairs, tables, basketball backboards and library and closet shelving." Student lockers, together with special lockers for fire extinguishers and waste paper containers, were delayed in arriving, but have now been installed.

Other special features in the building are exceptionally high ceilings in the music rooms, which improve acoustical reproduction; indirect lighting in the drafting room, together with glass-doored cases where work done in the drafting shop and arts departments can be displayed to those passing in the corridor; and electric light switch systems which are key-operated to prevent tampering.

"Every room where classes are to be held will be a home room for students, if the crowded conditions we expect materials," Klein said. "But provisions have been made for the addition of more classrooms in the future."

Shout additional classes are needed, the building could be enlarged by removing a rear wall. The school would then grow away from West 25th street, not along it.

Paint Interior Walls Biggest job remaining toward completion of the new school is the painting of interior walls, which is to begin this week. Bass has begun the task of making final preparations in classrooms where painting is complete.

One of the most modern of school kitchens will serve the student cafeteria in the building. Two lines of students will be served at the same time. Stoves and ovens in the kitchen are all gas-operated.

Only classroom located on the second level of the building is a music room, which, like the other music rooms in the school, has the characteristically high ceiling. Also occupying the second level are five practice rooms, where students may rehearse vocal and instrumental solo work in private.

Shower and dressing room facilities just off the gymnasium are the most modern available. The showers, for example, are all separately or banked. The control operator also has full view through a large glass panel.

Entering the school from West 25th street, the visitor first sees the glassed-in reception area, from which the front entrance and the entire length of the main corridor may be observed. The rear of the reception area are located the administrative staff offices, counseling rooms and the principal's office.

Classrooms are spaced down each side of the main corridor, with subject matter taught in adjoining rooms. Three science rooms are located together, the subject matter taught in adjoining rooms. Three science rooms are located together, the subject matter taught in adjoining rooms.

DRAFTING ROOM at the new school is one of few classrooms which are almost ready for occupancy. Here Head Custodian George Bass demonstrates an adjustable top on one of the 20 drafting tables.

MODERN CAFETERIA facilities are evident in this view of the West 25th street junior high school kitchen. Students will be able to use two serving lines, one of which is shown at the right here. Gas stoves and ovens are in the background.

REMOVABLE SHELVES where students can store their work in enclosed cabinets are examined by George Bass in the arts and crafts department. Bass stands behind a heavy wooden table equipped with vices to be used for metalworking. Tables in the foreground are for other classroom work.

"I was a Walking Dead Man"

"No, I wasn't something out of a horror movie. I was just an average person who, better, no worse," said Jim. "Then I read these words: 'Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.'"

Man shall not live... I To be sure, I was physically alive. I ate and drank and slept. I loved and hated. I laughed and cried.

And yet I was dead spiritually. I was not right with God. God wants us to have more than just the life centered in this physical frame which we call our body. He wants us to live spiritually, too. Are you alive, SPIRITUALLY—or are you a walking dead man?

How can you become alive, spiritually? "By every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."

25 YEARS AGO

The following items were taken from the files of the Granite City Press-Record

Today, the first day of spring began favorably with a partial return of yesterday's bright sun after the night had brought a heavy dust storm in this area. True, the sun was a little hazy as it filtered through hovering east clouds, but its mere presence and warmth indicated the spring season was really in the offing. Tri-Cityans awoke today to find a thin film of dust in their homes and larger accumulations on porches. It was so fine that few residences were able to keep it from drifting inside. The storm came from the plains in the west, crossed Kansas and Missouri and spread over this section of Illinois.

The first major residential construction in several years was begun this week by the Lomas Construction Co., which is building a completely modern eight Members of the Fidelity class of the Methodist Church met Monday evening with Mrs. Miller Gattson on Fourth street in Madison. A social time was enjoyed after a business session and luncheon was served late in the evening.

Members of the Granite City DeMolay Chapter observed "Devotional Day" last Sunday by attending the First Presbyterian Church in Madison in a body. They were accompanied by Advisors B. O. Hoffman, F. L. Henley and James Stuart.

A resolution fixing the time and polling places for the Madison school district election was adopted by the board of education Monday night. The election will be held Saturday afternoon, April 10. There will only be one candidate for each of the three vacancies this far. Dr. R. A. Marston, president of the board, is a candidate for re-election and on his ticket for members are Arthur Bucher and Elva Lee Swigert.

C. A. Neville, athletic director at St. Louis YMCA, addressed fourteen members and five guests of the Madison Rotary Club at a weekly meeting held yesterday noon in the high school auditorium. His subject was "Recreation and the Use of Leisure Time." He also spoke before the Madison and Community high schools during the day.

A weekly all-day meeting of the Methodist Ladies' Aid was held yesterday in the home of Mrs. W. J. Franklin on Fourth street in Madison. Plans were completed for a chicken supper to be given Thursday, March 28, at the church. Aid members present were Mrs. Harry Plapp

TAX FACTS

Federal aid for education — another year to have Federal funds returned, minus a handling charge — made headway this morning as the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois reports.

A bill to provide $875,000,000 over the next 3 years to aid schools and high school construction was approved recently by the House Education and Labor Committee.

Under this plan, commencing next July 1, Federal funds would be available as outright grants. The second and third year they would be given on a dollar-for-dollar matching basis. The funds are to be allotted on the basis of school population in the various states.

Illinois would be eligible for approximately $16,933,000 the first year, $16,985,000 the second and $17,083,000 the third year. Based on the history of other Federal aid programs, and the fact that no money has been paid what it collects in the states, Illinois taxpayers, for example, will be paying for the first year's allotment of $16,933,000. The second and third year allotments will likewise not be "free."

Dr. Lloyd Morey, a keen student of government and a former president of the University of Illinois, recently gave valid, written reasons for opposing Federal subsidies for schools. Dr. Morey wrote:

"Actually there is no such thing as 'Federal aid.' All the money thus provided comes sooner or later from the same taxpayers who provide funds for state and local financing."

Dr. Morey continued with another strong argument: "To channel it through the national government increases the overhead costs and tends to centralize decision and supervision in ways that tend to be educational and management responsibility."

The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois believes that the states and their citizens have made a very impressive record in recent years in solving their own problems of educational finance. The effort in Illinois has been progressive, and there is no reason to believe that it will not continue.

Woman Sentenced To County Jail As Vagrant
Christine Sieckert, 19, of Hotel Steven, charged her pleadings in solving their own problems of educational finance. The effort in Illinois has been progressive, and there is no reason to believe that it will not continue.

Mrs. Harriet Mercer, 2210 Linden Blvd., started this morning as full-time secretary and receptionist for the Granite City office of the Madison County Mental Health Clinic.

Before she was hired by the county health society, the clinic in Granite City was managed by a part-time volunteer worker and the Alton office secretary, Mrs. Mercer is the first regular employee hired for the local clinic. The two staff doctors and social worker rotate between the two clinics in the county.

Dr. Donald Nachand has local office hours on Monday and Thursday afternoons while Dr. James R. Harle is here Saturday mornings. M. S. Crouch, social worker, is here on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The local clinic interviewed 111 people during February and had 47 patients, the school clinic 17. Of the patients 24 were under 18 and in the 25 to age group, and 23 children, 12 in 6-12 group. Alton's clinic handled 11.

The price of everything we buy is determined by its quality. This is just as true of ice cream as of anything else. You'll find DEL-FLA ICE CREAM costs a few cents more — because it costs more to make. The secret of its delicious flavor lies in the freshness of the pure graded pasteurized rich cream and dairy products used the same day they are received. We are not faced with the problem to use odds and ends, returned or distressed materials to use up. Remember, you can pay less money for your ice cream, but it won't be as good.
